VOL. 101 — NO. 14 | CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1960 | 12 PAGES TODAY

LOOKING OUT — These hombres are a few of Cameron's Westerners last year who enforced the Western code of "beards, Western garb or else". Though the faces may change somewhat with a new crop of beards, there will be many more on hand to boost Cameron's Western Week to new heights July 11 - 16. Literally thousands are expected to see what becomes of such jests as portable jails, mock hangings and the like. The man inside the pokie, incidentally, was happy to face the beards and badges from the inside. — Staffoto

Ol' 101 With F. M. L.

Western Week beards have become the topic and target throughout Texas as emissaries of Cameron's "brothers of the brush" attend various gatherings in the metropolitan hinterlands.

Latest to attract attention is W. E. Obermiller, of Cameron, the tall, bewhiskered county service officer.

His impression was more lasting at Laredo though. The staff artist of the Laredo Times sketched the cartoon below while Obermiller was attending the Disabled American Veterans convention there last week.

101 — 101 — 101

Obermiller, who is sporting the biggest set of whiskers in these parts, said he was hailed "Castro" by some Mexicans on the other side of the border while visiting Old Mexico.

Mrs. Obermiller was not nonplused by the business. She was elected president of the Texas D AV Women's Auxiliary.

Other beard growers, have experienced accusations of "hail, Castro," and "hi, Abe Lincoln" and other tokens of face-brush recognition.

You can bet that Cameron will pack the town for about five days with people wondering what possible justification us beard growers can find for putting up with their "tributes."

101 — 101 — 101

HEY, SALAD EATERS — If you like your tossed salad heavy with cucumber, drop by the Herald and glimpse the 4-lb., 7 oz. husky brought in by Mrs. Henry Olis, of Rt. 2 Buckholts.

At first glance, it appeared to be a stunted watermelon or outsize gourd. But sure enough, it's the biggest cucumber you'll see in several states. Even for Texas, it's a dandy.

101 — 101 — 101

If there is any doubt as to the coverage all ready given to Western Week, may we cite the following publications carrying news on the early stages of the event: The Houston Chronicle, Calendar of Events of the Texas Highway Department, Temple Telegram, Waco News - Tribune, The Houston Post, and several other state newspapers.

Pythians Cite Oxsheer Smith In Tribute Here

Oxsheer M. Smith, president of Citizens National Bank, Monday night was honored by the Cameron Knights of Pythias with a special recognition service citing Smith's 50 years service in the Lodge.

Jim D. Bowmer, immediate past grand chancellor of the Pythian Order of Texas and chairman of the Texas Pythian Home cited Smith for loyal service to the order in presenting the Cameron banker with a 50 year service award and veteran jewel.

Bowmer pointed out that Smith's service to the Pythian Order had spanned the same period of time that the Pythian Home had been in operation. He also noted Smith's service in Cameron civic and religious work and service to the Central Texas Community and State.

Smith responded to the presentation talk in a humorous and historical review of the Pythian Order in Central Texas and its challenge to its members.

Supt. Hugo F. Horstmann, head of the Pythian Home in Weatherford, also cited Smith's aid to the Home, including individual assistance to a young lady sponsored by Cameron Pythians who was recently named "outstanding nurse" in Dallas.

Tributes were made also by Dr. W. R. Newton, Jr., F. G. Blake and the Rev. Maurice Grovers, former minister of the First Christian Church in Cameron, and now executive secretary of the Christian Church in Mississippi.

Chancellor Commander Niley Smith served as master of ceremonies.

RECEIVES AWARD — Hugo F. Horstmann, superintendent of the Pythian Home, Weatherford, presents Oxsheer Smith, Cameron, with a 50-year service jewel and award at a special meeting of the Cameron Pythian Lodge. At right is Jim D. Bowmer, Temple attorney, who delivered the presentation address. Bowmer is past chancellor of Texas Pythian Lodge.

8.63 Rainfall Favors County During June

It looked as if the sky fell in on Cameron for about an hour Sunday afternoon.

Rain, buckets and all sloshed the streets, yards and spillways with 3.32 inches of water in one hour from about 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

For a while, folks almost forgot that Cameron and Milam County were receiving a "million-dollar rain" that started Friday.

Longtime residents of this city searched memories that were unable to come up with a sequel to the torrent of three inches in one hour.

But Milam County crops looked better than ever with a total of 8.63 inches of rain in June, of which .84 of an inch fell June 6.

J. D. Moore, Milam County agent, said Wednesday that upland cotton acreage should have gained about 50 percent output from the four days of rain. And maize and corn should gain considerably. He estimated an additional gain of about 10 bushels to the acre of corn would result.

The heavy total rainfall was not general in the county. Officials reported about four inches north of Cameron and even heavier amounts south of Milam toward Brenham. Houston and South Texas cities drew as much as 28 inches.

The rainfall picture showed:

June 6	.84
June 24	1.1
June 25	2.12
June 26	4.57

City officials reported a deluge of calls from housewives and property owners concerned about the heavy overflow of water in Cameron Sunday. But hardly any drainage system would have handled up to four feet of water flowing along curbs and ditches that day.

Street damage was limited to pock marks caused by washout. Damage was slight to crops, Moore noted.

Biggest gain of all, Moore opined, was for the livestock pasture which was needing rains. Farmers were faced with buying feed for their cattle.

Some cantaloupe damage was reported, but that seemed to be the extent of crop damage. No overflows occured.

In Cameron, though, people will remember when they could have canoed down Norht Travis, or most any other street for about an hour.

Threesome's Action Saves 9-Year-Old From Sunday Flood

Little Jackie Morris doesn't appreciate the floodtides caused by Sunday's heavy rains here.

But she is sure to appreciate the fine efforts of three Cameron men who saved her life.

Nine-year-old Jackie was wading in two-feet of rushing water in a ditch along Batte Street in Southwest Cameron when she lost her balance.

She was swept through an underground culvert on the north side and emerged awash on the other side of the street.

There, Vito Riola and Dr. Robert Titsworth, happening by, pulled her from the torrent. And Joe Lee Humplik, spring graduate of Yoe High School, applied artificial respiration that revived the child on the spot.

Police Chief W. E. Johnson then rushed her to St. Edward's Hospital where doctors checked her over and said the quick action of the three men had saved her life.

Group To Outline West Week Plans

Western Week committeemen will meet with Chairman Henry Siebman today to finalize the July 11 - 16 program that will kick-off Cameron's second Wild West extravaganza.

Following Gov. Price Daniel's declaration and state-wide publicity on the Cameron Horse show and Western Week, committeemen are expected to complete plans for the biggest show of its kind in Central Texas.

Plans will include the Cameron Saddle Horse Show July 15 - 16 a big pre-show parade July 15, and week-long activities starting Monday, July 11, throughout the City.

Buddy Shipp, president of Cameron Saddle Club, said indications are that entries will be at an all-time high for the sixth Cameron horseshow. Last year about 360 entries broke previous records.

But portable jails, Western wear, beards, Wild West high jinks of all kinds and other holiday fever will prevail on the streets in Cameron, officials predict.

State-wide publicity mounts as interest is reaching across Texas. The Western Week is now listed as a feature tourist attraction by the Texas Highway Department.

Western Week decorations are appearing in Downtown store windows with promises of Western displays assured throughout the city. Merchants report that sale of Western wear is taking a marked increase. A pre-Western Week Dollar Day is running here tomorrow.

Stagecoaches, horses by the hundreds, Westerners by the thousands and re-enactments of many traditional Western skirmishes will highlight the week-long show.

"But," says Siebman, "a lot of the activity will happen spontaneously, as last year, to give each event real enthusiasm."

A complete outline of the horse show, week-long events and planned shows will be listed in a special Western Week section of The Herald next week.

KC's Elect Laake As Grand Knight

The Cameron Knights of Columbus Thursday elected Leo Laake grand knight and Albert Michalka deputy grand knight.

They will head the 200 member Cameron K C group for the 1960-61 year.

Other officers elected were: Chancellor, Herman Hoelscher; recorder, Oscar A. Zotz, treasurer, Edmund Boedeker; advocate, Henry Schattle; warden, Pete Susik; inside guard, Herman Ripkosky and outside guard, Jimmy Kunz.

Buckholts Votes Down Merger As Sharp Approves

Sharp voters favored a Sharp-Buckholts school consolidation Saturday, but Buckholts district voters defeated the issue 81 to 138.

Both schools will continue to operate independently with 12 grade systems during the next school year.

Meanwhile, the Milam School Board approved annexation proceedings for the San Gabriel district to the Thorndale District. San Gabriel had been operating an eight-grade school.

The Buckholts vote stopped the consolidation move that originated in that Milam County farming center. The Sharp vote favoring the consolidation was 93 for and 24 against. Val Verde also voted against consolidation 15 to 5.

Miss Mary Belle Batte will continue to head the Sharp district's 12-grade school system this year. Supt. James W. Perry will head the Buckholts system.

School attendance figures for both schools was 281 during the past year, officials said. Each dependent high school in Sharp and Buckholts graduates about 12 to 15 seniors a year.

Both districts had to approve the consolidation move before it could take place.

Officials said the San Gabriel - Thorndale consolidation would be in the "best interests of San Gabriel school children."

The increase in finances will strengthen the Thorndale system, County Supt. H. D. Maxwell said.

If the consolidation in Sharp - Buckholts had carried, Sharp would have operated a six-grade elementary school and Buckholts would have operated a six-grade junior and senior high school.

Bloodmobile Here Friday Afternoon For 75-Pint Quota

Cameron donors may give blood from noon to 6 p.m. tomorrow at First Methodist Fellowship Hall, Richard Moseley, Cameron Red Cross chairman said today.

The Red Cross bloodmobile will make its regular visit to Cameron, seeking a minimum of 75 pints of blood for this area's quota.

Moseley emphasizes that any resident of Milam County can get any quantity of blood free when he needs it, except for administrative costs, because of the Red Cross program.

Bond Vote Due Along Elm Creek

A $200,000 bond issue will be voted in the Elm Creek Watershed July 16, which, if passed, will allow construction of 61 dam structures, 23 in Milam County.

E .A. Perrin, secretary of the Watershed district board, said that the four-county area — Falls, Milam, Bell and McLennan - would benefit by up to 83 percent water control with construction of the water control structures.

The government will provide about two million dollars in assistance and Soil Conservation Service direction in building the projects, Perrin noted.

The project would require five years to complete throughout the estimated 200,000 - acre area, primarily in Bell and northwest Milam County.

Yarrelton will be the only voting box in Milam County. A majority vote of residents in the district who own property would pass the measure.

The Watershed would provide control along Elm Creek from a point intersecting Little Elm to confluence of Elm Creek and Little River near Cameron.

Some of the structures would provide 30 and 40 acre lakes, Perrin noted.

He said that Elm Creek would be straightened out, cleared of trees and sloughs would be filled.

Perrin said that 1400 property owners live in the proposed district area.

He emphasized that money derived from the bond issue would not be used to purchase land or dam sites, but to secure easements, moving fences and re-establishing roads.

Chairman of the district is K. D. Buster Griffin and David Smith, of Rogers, is treasurer.

Cameron To Close For Holiday Fourth

Most Cameron businesses will observe the Fourth of July holiday Monday, Chamber of Commerce officials reported today.

The Fourth is listed as one of the Chamber's six regular yearly holidays, according to Chamber Manager Jack DuBois.

All federal, county and city offices will be closed for the day. Banks and practically all retail stores will observe the Fourth.

Fund Drive Totals $42,187 In City

Newton Memorial Hospital's fund drive reached $42,187 Wednesday as the drive deadline was approaching, officials reported today.

Drayton McLane, president of Newton Memorial Hospital Advisory Board, expressed appreciation for contributions and pledges from Cameron businesses and individuals.

He urged those who have not given to make their pledges or contributions now to insure meeting the $50,000 minimum goal in time for a July 6 bid letting date.

Officials also reported two 100 percent blocks in contributions from the 100 Block of East Main St. and the 100 block on Travis.

Contractors are figuring bids on the hospital project, scheduled to cost between $350,000 and $400,000.

It will be built on a site north of the present Newton Memorial Hospital on W. Fourth St.

A grant from the federal government will provide $160,000 to $200,000 and about $860,000 in pledges from outside Milam County are promised upon successful completion of Cameron's portion of the drive, officials said.

Total still needed to complete the drive is $7,813.00.

One spokesman said he hoped that those planning to contribute would make their pledge or donation in the next week to meet the deadline of the bid letting.

Nematodes Limit Production Of Vegetable Garden

COLLEGE STATION — Are your garden vegetables poor producers? If so, the plants may have been damaged by root knot.

Root knot occurs in all areas of Texas, and is usually more common in sandy soils. The disease is caused by nematodes. Nematodes are small, microscopic worms belonging to a group of animals known as roundworms.

Plant damaged by nematodes show a lack of vigor as indicated by stunting, wilting and yellowing of the leaves. Loss of leaves often occurs. Plants may die. Vegetables are usually small and unfit to eat.

Lura Gene took an active part in the courses offered to strengthen the local 4-H county council. These courses were; Parlimentary Procedure, Committees, Elections and 4-H executive meeting.

Miss Erma Wine, 4-H assistant state leader from the Extension Service at A & M attended and directed the meeting.

County Agents Notes

35 Countians See Tests

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

Some 35 Milam county farmers attended a field day at Bayside, near Corpus, this week to observe the field test work with sorghum and cotton being done by the DeKalb Company. The test visited was one of 1700 tests being conducted in the U. S. by the company. Reason for selecting this site in Texas is the ideal conditions for the development of head smut in grain sorghum.

Plant breeders are developing varieties of grain sorghum that are resistant to head smut. Several new grain sorghum varieties were observed in the tests plots, one of the more attractive called shorty forty. Three recessive genes for height were crossed to produce this very strong stalk that stands about a foot shorter than the other hybrid varieties. Seed for this variety will be available for limited plantings next year. Several strains of open boll cotton were shown to the group.

W. C. Keith, local farmer and representative for the company, assisted by J. D. Moore, local farm agent, attended with the group. Some 600 farmers were fed a barbecue meal preceeding the tour.

Beef cattle short course to be at Texas A&M College, August 8, 9, 10. Registration at the Memorial Student Center. An interesting program dealing with all phases of beef production and marketing will be presented for the benefit of beef producers.

Local producers are urged to attend.

Poultry conference - The 1960 Poultry Conference, to July 6-7 at the Texas A&M College Memorial Student Center, will emphasize the breeding, health, feeding and management factors that provide for the maximum returns for the poultryman. The program of this conference is designed to be of special interest to hatcherymen, breeders, servicemen, commercial producers and related industry personnel.

Speakers for the conference will be three out-of-state poultry experts, Texas poultry industry leaders and Texas A&M College System personnel. The three out-of-state speakers are: Dr. Ben D. Bohren, professor of poultry breeding and genetics at Purdue University; Dr. Stephen C. King, chief of the poultry research branch of the USDA; and Durell Davis, southern editor of the Poultry Tribune.

Subjects covered in the conference will include poultry health, unnecessary condemnations on the processing line, current changes in the South's egg industry, the legal use of agricultural chemicals, present day egg production costs and random sample performance tests — their virtues and limitations. Other subjects of interest to Texas poultrymen will also be discussed.

The conference is sponsored by the Poultry Science Department of the Texas A&M College System, and all persons interested in the poultry industry are invited to attend.

Five steps to greater dairy profits — 1), keep production records in order to determine returns on labor and capital.

2). Develop a good breeding program. Research shows it may soon be possible to "insure" 10,000 lb producing cows by following good breeding and management practices.

3). Choose a good feeding plan. Make sure cows get enough energy, protein, minerals and vitamins. Home grown feeds, pastures and other forages are the cheapest and best feeds for dairy cattle.

4). Manage carefully. Labor, machinery and equipment must be used efficiently these days. Self-feed hay and silage whenever possible.

5). Maintain milk quality. Cool milk immediately after milking to 40 degrees or below. Feed strong-odored feeds, such as silage, only after milking. Keep pastures free of weeds and seeds that cause objectionable flavors in milk.

Due to the heat many people are sitting on their lawns in the afternoon. Many are asking what should be done to control the ants in the yards. Dieldrin is a very effective ant killer and is readily available. Use one teaspoon of 20 percent wettable powder Dieldrin to one gallon of water.

A. M. Meekma, Extension Service Dairy Specialist, visited in Milam County, Thursday, June 23. Meekma looked at some of the Sears Dairy heifers and cows owned by 4-H Club members.

Heifers and cows that were visited belong to David McClaren, Marlow community; Gwendolyn and Carolyn Jistel, Ad Hall, and Jeannette and Johnnie Ray Richter, Cameron.

Meekma was impressed with the fine quality of the dairy animals on the farms.

David Koslan, Thorndale 4-H Club member, bought a registered Duroc gilt from Larry Jungmann of Buckholts, for a 4-H project. David plans to get in the hog business to utilize home grown grain.

4-H boys, dads and adult leaders are eligible to attend the boys 4-H District Camp to be held at Brownwood, July, 25,26,27. Please leave your name and address at the county agents office if you plan to attend and have not been contacted by the agents.

Farm tractors can be killers. If you don't think so, points out the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, watch the reports on farm accidents.

Broiler Losses Costly

Broiler condemnations at the processing plant are expensive to the producer, F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist says condemnations at the nation's processing plants are taking an estimated $22 to $25 million annually out of the producer's pocket. Since Texas is a major broiler producing state, he says these losses are of prime importance.

J. Wallis Named Concessionaire At Rockdale Lake

J. C. (Jamie) Wallis of Rockdale this week was named concessionaire at Alcoa Lake to succeed the late W. T. Whatley, Jr., who died of a heart attack last month.

Wallis, veteran concession operator at the University of Texas and Texas A. & M's Kyle Field, will be associated with his brother, Russell Wallis, in the Alcoa Lake concession. Russell is a former owner and operator of "Blackie's" fishing resort on Lake Travis.

Both Jamie and Russell are natives of Rockdale. They expect to take over the concession as soon as contracts can be completed.

Wallis will be the second concessionaire for Alcoa Lake since it was opened in July of 1954. Whatley became the concessionaire at that time and had operated the lake continuously until his death in May.

During the six years the public has been allowed on the lake, more than 100,000 fishermen have registered and almost a quarter of a million fish have been caught.

The Wallis brothers have promised the public an ample supply of boats, motors, bait, and service.

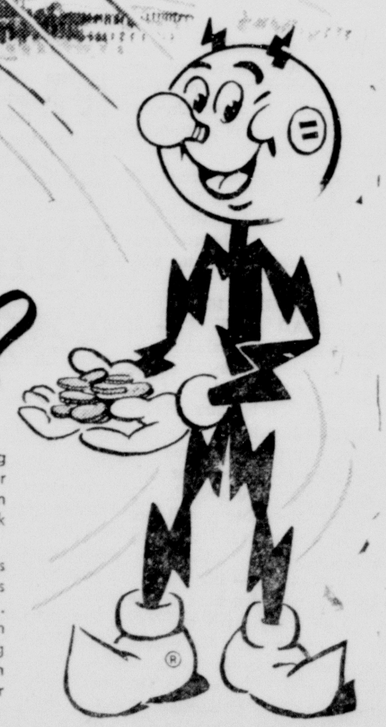
HOW MUCH For Summer Comfort?



Have you wondered at the cost of running your air conditioner? Actually, running your air conditioner all summer costs less than an average family will spend for only one week at a mountain resort.

A comparative study of electric service bills reveals that on the average it costs 2½ cents per ton per hour to run an air conditioner . . . so, it's simple arithmetic to figure your own cost. Multiply the number of air conditioning tons your home has by 2½ cents and then multiply the number of hours each day that your comfort-cooling air conditioner runs.

Consult the chart below. You will notice that as the days become hotter, the cost rises . . . this is because your air conditioner has to work longer to keep you comfortably cool.

Masonic Leaders Installed At Joint Meeting

The joint installation of officers for 1960-1961 for the Masonic Lodges No. 602 of Rogers and 1092 of Buckholts was attended by a good crowd Friday night in the Rogers Lodge Hall. It was an open meet-cake and cold drinks were served by wives of members of Lodge No. 602, after the installation.

A film entitled "Texas Size Family", a story of life and work at the Masonic School and Home in Fort Worth, was shown before the installation, by Henry Cowen. Rev. Lloyd Watson, Pastor of Richfield Christian Church in Waco was the speaker of the evening, using "Hitch hiking" as his topic.

Mechanization Increases With New Cotton Crop

COLLEGE STATION — Increased mechanization marked the 1959-60 cotton harvest in Texas.

In keeping with the national trend, machine stripping picking accounted for 44 percent of the Texas upland cotton harvest. A year earlier, it was 35 percent. Hand picking and snapping, with 56 percent, still predominated, however.

A survey by the Agricultural Marketing Service, in cooperation with ginners, compressmen and warehousemen, shows that 42 percent of the state's 4,371,000 bales ginned was hand snapped, and 14 percent and picked, compared to 49 and 16 percent, respectively, in 1958-59. Machine picking gained from 4 to 10 percent, and machine stripping increased from 31 to 34 percent.

By comparison, the 1959-60 national average was 39 percent hand picked; 18 percent, hand snapped; 31 percent, machine picked (a new high); and 12 percent machine stripped. A year earlier, U. S. growers harvested 44 percent by hand picking; 32 percent by hand snapping; 21 percent, machine picking ;and 3 percent by machine strippers.

Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, with 48, 34 and 5 percent respectively, were the only states that employed machine stripping extensively. South Carolina led with 92 percent hand-picked cotton and California was first in machine picking with 83 percent.

Time To Check Social Security?

It may be time once again to check on your social security account, according to Maurice M. Chastain, manager of the Temple District Office of the Social Security Administration.

Chastain advised that most people now reaching age 65 need 4½ years of earning on their account. (A man born in 1906 or later or a woman born in 909 or later will need at least 10 years in the system). For disability, you need at least 5 years.

If you will write or stop in your local social securiyt office, they will furnih you a self-addressed card. A statement of your earnings will be sent you from the headquarters in Baltimore, Maryland.

According to Chastain, it is advisable for workers and self-employed people to check their account every three years. This makes it possible to correct any record which might not be complete. Your future benefit payments will be based on earnings credited to your account.

'Beard Tickles'

Teenagers Find Whisker Growing Real Challenge

By Robert Mann

For the next three weeks it won't be unusual at all to see a few beards dangling from the chins of Cameronites, in fact it's rare when a clean-shaven person is noticed.

Last year this thing was confined to the adults, but the Herald has found two teenagers who are just as brushy, rugged, and woolly as the old timers.

The youngest beard grower in the city to date is Bobby Jones, 14 year-old sophomore at Yoe High School. Number two man is Chris Gay, 16 year-old Junior.

The boys appear to be pinch hitting for dad; neither of the boy's fathers has shown any signs of stubble.

Jones sports a dark brown beard going up under his chin into long sideburns.

Gay is a little more extravagant being two years senior to Jones.

He sports a mustache, long sideburns, and a Van Dyke goatee in its fullest form.

It's a rather odd thing to say, but we must admit that these two look as good if no better than some adult beard growers if they chose to enter the beard growing contest, we feel they might outrate a number of their adult competitors.

We asked one of these boys what his girl throught of his whiskers and he replied, "She said it tickles"

Summer baseball has slowed down considerably the past week due to torriential rains that practically drowned out all action on the sports scene.

Swimming was the only thing cosidered logical as water stood 3 feet high in some Cameron low spots. Much of the swimming was unentional as cars stalled up and down Cameron's residential streets.

A glance at the Yoemen's football schedule for next year might interest those not yet informed on Cameron's lineup.

Bill Bates and his crew will face West in their first tilt away from home, Sept. 2. The 9th will see the Yoemen in Rosebud.

The first home grounds game is verses the Rogers Eagles the 16. Tough comeptition with Elgin is scheduled forthe 23rd here and equally strong Georgetown comes to Cameron the 30th.

The Taylor Ducks host the Yoemen for the first October game to be played the 7th. The 14th is our only open date.

We go to Caldwell and Hearne the next two weeks before hosting our last games of the year with Rockdale and A and M Consolidated to round off the 10 game schedule.

Lions Ladies Night

Knebel Suggests End To Apathy

Cameron Lions installed Bill Crockett 1960 -61 president and heard Supt. Earl Knebel discuss the need for eliminating apathy in education in a ladies night program Thursday.

New officers installed were: president, Crockett; first vice-president, Tom Boyd; second vice president, Earle Pearson; thrid vice-president, Dr. S. H. Richardson; directors, Eugene Mees (also tail twister), E. O. Schiller, Jr. and John Schigut; secretary-treasurer, Billy Grimes; and liontamer, Bill Marek.

Dr. Knebel, new superintendent of schools in Cameron; challenged his Cameron audience to "fight the problem of indifference, complacency and apathy in education."

"It is education's biggest problem," he said.

Knebel invited Cameron School District parents to visit the Cameron schools and see how the plant is operating.

"We are too indifferent in farming out our children to schools and more concerned about money to operate them," Knebel said.

"Parents first and foremost have the responsibility of rearing children. They sometimes expect the church, school and community to do the job of raising them," he said.

He cited state education figures which showed Texas 34th in the nation in amount of money spent per student. And he noted that Texas ranked 50th in national picture in teachers salaries.

Dr. Knebel also quoted an education authority which urged the idea that governments must have additional revenue for improvement of social needs.

"Raising children is a team effort," Knebel said, with the community not in conflict, but working together."

"I look forward to the challenge of working for Cameron schools and will approach this challenge with an open mind and not too many preconceived ideas."

Out-going Lion President Richard Williams was master of ceremonies. About 60 Lions, guests and wives attended the program and dinner at the First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Officials said he has not made bond and is now being confined in Milam County Jail.

He is charged with shooting his wife in the hand Thursday near their home on Batte Street, Cameron.

Sheriff Carl Black arrested Morris after Morris, with a 12-gauge shotgun, had held city and state patrol officers at bay, officials said.

Morris surrendered his shotgun after Black confronted him with a 30-30 Winchester, witnesses said.

Alcoa Looks Ahead...

An article in the April 16 issue of Business Week predicts a bright future for Alcoa Aluminum of America, the firm that raised Milam County's economy to a sound, widened scope with construction of the Rockdale Works in the mid-'50's.

Business Week points out that Alcoa has been meeting tough competition in the booming aluminum business since World War II, but the pioneer aluminum firm still leads the industry by a wide margin in production.

The brightest estimate in the article points to the fact that Alcoa and the aluminum industry in general are outselling the steel industry in areas where aluminum products can perform with equal or greater efficiency.

Alcoa, says Business Week, has followed a traditional pattern of buying their power resources, unlike competitive companies. Thus Alcoa purchased vast lignite reserves in Milam County, estimated to last about 100 years, and gas reserves at Point Comfort for the other Texas smelting plant.

In line with Alcoa's surge for more business, the Rockdale Works is instituting a direct-chill flat ingot process which will produce large, flat aluminum pigs for easier extrusion at rolling mills. It is another means to the successful sales of Alcoa aluminum throughout the U. S. and the free world.

Business Week points out that Alcoa officials are pleased with the long-term prospects of owning their own power-resources while most of their competitors are purchasing power from outside agencies. It will put Alcoa in a stronger price position when competitor companies must pay higher prices for power — hydroelectric, gas or other fuels.

Selling of aluminum has broken with the traditions of Alcoa by going to the mass consumer, rather than dealing with individual wholesale producers of aluminum products. Business Week emphasizes that aluminum is outselling steel to the customer through wide research and development programming. Steel leads in total production compared to the aluminum industry.

What does this mean to Milam County? It assures us that Central Texas' largest manufacturing concern can be expected to produce more aluminum, more ways for a growing market. That means jobs, perhaps more than the 1200-1300 employed in Rockdale.

It means that Milam County is providing the basic resource, lignite, to an industry's use that almost assuredly will boom to greater heights in the 1960's. It could mean additional industry related to the unquestioned promise of aluminum in a modern world.

We would only need additional population growth. in terms of millions (of course), in the four metropolitan complexes—Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio—to interest aluminum manufacturers in locating in the center of this population. Their total population, all within 150 miles of Cameron is now about 3.8 millions or about one-third of Texas' population.

It is apparent Milam County's future relates closely to the future of Alcoa Aluminum. And when Alcoa officers foresee better things for the '60's who would wish to dispell their confidence?

No Holiday For Death...

A traditional Holiday Fourth is coming Monday, and three days of highway mayhem will chill the otherwise warmth of trips to the lake and weekend excursions.

The Department of Public Safety again urges Texas drivers to temper their driving habits in the usual flood of traffic from city to town.

In reviewing the Texas Fourth of July record, officials can safely predict that about 25 Texans will never see another holiday.

Here is the previous six-year record:

YEAR	PREDICTION	ACTUAL DEATHS
1952	26	29 (3 days)
1953	27	28 (3 days)
1954	31	33 (3 days)
1955	29	18 (3 days)
1956	11	12 (1 day)
1957	10	15 (1 day)
1958	28	25 (3 days)
1959	26	28 (3 days)

Department of Public Safety experts predict that 27 persons will die in Texas traffic during the 72 hours between 12:01 a.m. Saturday and 11:59 p.m. Monday. But as noted in past records, actual death exceeds predictions.

The obvious, much-mentioned means of avoiding traffic tragedy could be repeated here. Perhaps repetition is the only effective way to make the point. We think it better to cite only one rule to follow on the highway: "Drive defensively."

If drivers watch the other fellow as closely as they are told to watch their own actions, they will be likely to miss the death toll this Holiday Fourth.

Texas Focusing On Water Needs

By--Vern Sanford

Austin-Amid the searing, summer weather, Texans are putting new emphasis on getting a statewide water plan.

Though Texas is supposed to be mid-way in a seven-year wet cycle now, unexpected harsh drought settled on parts of South and South Central Texas in late spring and early summer. As one scorching day followed another, crops were stunted and pasturage began to burn.

Though conditions were better elsewhere, the difficulties of the farmers in the areas around the Capital City lent emphasis to Gov. Price Daniel's plea for a "crash program" to develop a water plan. If Texans don't do it, said the governon, the federal government will take over.

Target is to have a complete master plan for development of Texas' water ready by May 1,1961. To help meet this deadline, the governor the federal government wi the river authorities and districts to file updated master plans for their areas with the Water Board by Nov. 1. He also asked the river authorities to lend engineers and technical personnel to help prepare the state plan.

Meanwhile, farmers, watching their corn burn up in the fields, took what comfort they could from the often-repeated statement that "Texas has plenty of water; it's just a matter of distribution."

STEEP GRADES AHEAD

Looking ahead 10 years at estimated costs of state government the governor's State Finance Advisory Commission got a dizzying view of spiraling expenses.

Sub-committees of the commission will study the problem of future costs and how to meet them through the summer and make reports to the entire commission Sept. 10. Commission's report and recommendations to the governor are due Oct. 10.

Estimates of their future needs made by major state agencies for the Commission indicated a need for spending $29,000,000 more each year to meet growth needs.

Governor Daniel told the commission he hoped they could find ways to scale down the new money needs some and find revenue sources that would grow as population and demands for services increase.

FINANCE STUDY GROUPS.

Making up the Finance Commission sub-committees which will work through the summer to find answers to Texas worrisome money problems are a group of citizens with more than average experience in public affairs and finances.

The panels and their chairmen, as named by Commission Chairman John Redditt are:

SOURCES OF ADITIONAL REVENUE: Dr. George C. Hester of Georgetown.

FINANCING LAW ENFORCEMENT, WELFARE, HOSPITA L S, AND THE INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION: E. B. Germany of Dallas.

STATE'S FISCAL SYSTEM AND DEFICIT PROBLEMS: Ben H. Wooten of Dallas.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Thomas B. Tyler.

HIGHER EDUCATION: Dr. Frank Connally of Waco.

HIGHWAYS: Herbert C. Petry, Jr. ofCarrizo Springs.

MORE FROM FUNDS

Facing a money-short future, a State Senate Committee is studying the possibility of earning higher returns from the investment of sizte trust funds.'

Sen. Hubert Hudson heads the panel which is studying administration and investment of four funds totaling $1,200,000,000. They are the University Permanent Fund, the Permanent School Fund, the Teachers Retirement System Fund and the State Employes Retirement Fund.

Mortgage bankers suggested to the panel that the funds could earn a higher return without sacrifice of safety by investing in government-insured home mortgages Some panel members observed that the funds now invested in federal bonds were not earning as much as was being lost through inflation.

For the past three years some of the University's Permanent Fund has been invested in corporate securities which has increased its earnings over what it had been from government bonds.

Senators also discussed the possibility of saving through a unified organization for administration and counseling on the four funds.

Countians Purchase $266,601 In Bonds

During the first five months of this year the citizens of Milam County purchases $266,601 in Series E & H United States Savings Bonds. This announcement was made today by Henry Siebman Chairman of Milam County Savings Bonds Committee.

"We have now achieved 70 per cent of our 1960 goal of $380,000," Siebman reported.

Texas sales for the first five months of this year were $69,824,409, which represents 42.2 percent of the 1960 goal of $165,500,000. May sales in Texas totaled $12,341,632, which is $1,049,468 greater than sales in the same month during 959.

Poage Discusses Farm Programs

ByCongressman Bob Poage

On several occasions I have pointed out that our present "flexible" farm price support program was giving precious little assistance to farmers, and at the same time was burdening our taxpayers with an almost impossible load. Within the last seven years (since we started on the "flexible" path) we have increased our surplus stocks from $2,452,000,000 to nearly $10,000,000,000. In connection with its price support program the Commodity Credit Corporation now shows losses of about $7,000,000,000 - most of it on basic commodities. Seven years ago these commodities showed a net profit of $13,000,000. Within those 7 years the Department of Agriculture has spent more money ($37 billion) than that Department had spent ($35 billion) in its previous 91 years of existence. All of this happened while farm prices were going down and the cost of food to the consumer was going up (bread which sold for 13 cents per pound with $2.40 wheat now sells for 20 cents with $1.80 wheat).

Surely, the situation doesn't make sense. I think that we should give farmers the same kind of governmental assistance to control unneeded production which we give oil producers under our proration laws. Others (including the American Farm Bureau) think that we should allow unlimited production with a low government loan program.

Our committee offered the House a bill which would have allowed wheat farmers to choose in a special referendum which method they preferred. The bill presented the Committee proposal of a cut in acreage, an increase in supports and a payment-in-kind for removing land from production as one choice, and the Farm Bureau proposal of unlimited production and a very low support price (as low as the support on corn of equal feed value) as the other choice. I simply cannot understand how those who say they want farmers to decide for themselves could oppose this choice, but they did.

So far as I could see, no one gained by this action except the grain storage people. I have some very fine friends in that business but I don't believe that even they would want us to continue to grow cheap grain simply to provide them with more business. As it is, I hope that those who voted against any action this session will stand ready to vote for the taxes which will be necessary in order to pay for a continued increase in unneeded storage.

Yesterday the House voted for a program of aid to the States for assistance to needy old people who are faced with medical and hospital bills they can't pay. The bill definitely does not involve any socialized medicine. On the contrary, it will help doctors collect their bills, just as it will help old people pay them. I voted for the bill.

Sage Says Prestige Gains On Porch, Not In Fields

Dear editar:

I've got a neighbor out here who's a sorehead. Nothing ever suits him.

Take the matter of President Eisenhower's cancelled trip to Japan. He claimed riding down the street of a world capital in an open automobile is no way to solve the world's problems, and if he wanted to talk to the Japanese Premier, send a plane over there after him and bring him to Washington, where crowds are friendly and don't sit down in the middle of the street. Or call him up on the telephone and save gas.

This neighbor doesn't understand international affairs. He doesn't understand prestige.

As I understand it, a lot of people throughout the world attach a lot of importance to prestige, and I wish I could get people in this vicinity to thinking the same way.

For example, take me, I'm constantly thinking of my prestige. Many's the time I could have been out on my tractor, going up one row and down another trying to make a crop, but I didn't. I sat on the front porch, working on my prestige. I've got sense enough to know if I was out there in the hot sun, people driving by would say, Look at him, out there in this weather, he must be mighty hard up, things must be shaky with his financial standing, must be overdrawn.

Weren't going to catch me risking that sort of reputation. I just set aside my personal considerations and ambitions and stayed in the shade on the porch, so thinking people could say, Now there's a financially secure man.

But what happens? People around here don't take the international view of things, they drive right on by and say, Look at him sitting there, no wonder he has Johnson grass in his crops, no wonder he can't make ends meet.

There's no hope for the world as long as it takes this backward view. I've been working on my prestige for years, but haven't brought very many people around to my way of thinking. It's not my fault, it's theirs. If they don't want to operate on the international level, let em stay provincial.

Clean Filters Are Important For Air Conditioners

Folks, keep those air condition er filters clean in your home.

Through the hot summer months when air conditioners will be keeping you cool, there are a few important points regarding filters that should be kept in mind.

1. The filter, whether it be the throw-away or permanent type, should be cleaned periodically so it will remain effective in cleaning the air of pollen, dust and dirt.

2. A clean filter helps keep the cooling coils clean. These coils need to remain dirt-free to give off an adequate amount of cold air.

3. A very large percentage of air conditioning unit failures are caused by dirty filters.

4. Filters should be checked, cleaned and replaced periodically on both window and central air conditioning units. It is wise to keep several new filters on hand for replacement purposes.

5. Air conditioning units can be operated more economically through the use of clean filters.

Texas Outranks 49 States In Cash Sales Of Ag Products

COLLEGE STATION — Texas far outranked other states in cash receipts from farm marketing of cotton, rice and grain sorghum in 1959, reports John G. McHaney, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cotton was the leading income source for Texas farmers as it brought in one-third of the total agricultural receipts. Although Texas grain sorghum accounted for over half of the total U. S. production, it accounted for only 10 percent of the State's farm income, McHaney continues.

In other rankings, Texas was second in receipts from cattle and calves, fourth in sheep and lambs and peanuts, and fifth in flaxseed. Even though Texas retained its top spot for number of cattle and calves on hand, Iowa ranked first in total cash receipts, McHaney says.
